CORNELL ADDRESSES NEED FOR COAST Legislation

As hurricane season ap- proaches, U.S. Sen. John Cornyn spoke on the Senate Floor Thursday, May 26, about The Coast Act, which aims to expedite the process of studying and beginning construction on a federally-funded coastal protection project along the Texas Gulf Coast.

The following are ex- cerpts of Cornyn’s re- mark:

“The hundreds of miles of Texas coast and the state’s location on the Gulf of Mexico make it partic- ularly vulnerable to hurri- cane and storms. We need to make sure we’re do- ing everything we can to protect those on the coast and to protect our economy from the next Hurri- cane Ike.”

“In Congress, I have voted with other members of the Texas delegation to authorize the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to as- sess the vulnerabilities and propose how we can best mitigate future dam- ages. But there’s room to do even better because we know there’s a federally-funded coastal project on the way.”

In June of 1966, a young Pastor John Morgan and 15 others from First Baptist Church of Pasadena set out to start a new church in the brand new Sagemont community. Fifty years later, Pastor Morgan and over 20,000 members continue to minister to this community, our city and the world.

Sagemont Church is grateful for the opportunity to serve you, our community, for these past 50 years. We have lived through growth, change, triumph and tragedy together. Through it all, our prayer is that you have discovered our great, unchanging God and experienced His amazing love for you.

Dobie softball players honored among elite

At left, Dobie sophomores center fielder Yvonne Whaley has been outstanding in her role as the Lady Longhorns lead-off hitter and starting center fielder. Following the 2016 season – Whaley was named a first-team, all-district 22-6A pick.

At right, Michelle Kristoff has been Dobie’s primary starting pitcher for the past two seasons, and she was great for the locals again in 2016. Leading Dobie to a second straight playoff berth. She performed well enough to earn the team’s designated player for much of the season, was a District 22-6A first-team selection.

At left, the Lady Longhorns’ Deja Mason-Gaines breaks out the power bat in a big way this season, slamming several big home runs during the season. Her two-run blast against Deer Park in the bi-district playoff caused a stir before the Deer rolled into a win. Gaines, a junior who operated as the team’s designated player for much of the season, was a District 22-6A first-team selection.

At left, the Lady Longhorns’ Sydney Gutierrez, the 10-year-old daughter of Alvin Police Officer and former Major League pitcher Ron Gutierrez, made her own mark during the season by hitting a home run against Clear Brook.

At left, Dobie senior outfielder Alexa Munoz ended a solid career as a Lady Longhorn by being selected to the District 22-6A second team.

San Jacinto College advanced in the world series, as the university came back from a 6-2 deficit on May 29 Day 4 action.

The University of Texas at San Antonio was down 6-2 and then scored seven runs in the second inning. When Condey scented a score, the game turned into a rout. University baseball added four runs in the third inning and 10 runs in the fourth inning. San Jac played 12 innings and played 15 innings, and added three runs in the bottom of the 15th inning.

But the locals quickly made adjustments, allowing pitcher Dorell Smith and shortstop Kailyn Nettleton to score. The Owls were down, and began to score. The Owls offense came alive in the third inning when shortstop Brandie Montgomery smacked a double to the left field fence.

Designated hitter Ally January then launched a towering, three-run home run to cut Cowley’s lead at Clear Brook, finished out his two-year reign in Baytown that competed in National Junior College Athletic Association Region XIV activities.

Stephen Rowe, University of Mary Hardin-Baylor Football – Rowe, a three-year starter at Clear Brook, finished out his two-year reign in Baytown that competed in National Junior College Athletic Association Region XIV activities.

Brandon Taylor, University of Austin’s men’s track and field – Taylor has the thrill in long jump track and field star at Clear Brook High School.
