Older women robbed in three separate incidents

Local schools are moving from a full in-person setup to the rain in the fall, but state officials and teachers apparently do not seem to be set.
We're coming back July 4th
We will open at 4:30 a.m.

We've missed you. We have missed serving you.
We will continue to renovating and making your favorite place safer and healthier.
Come see us starting July 4th
We’ve missed you!
Houston Airports unveils 2020-2024 Strategic Plan

The Mayor's Office of Cultural Affairs (MOCA) announced new art opportunities for the public to engage with artists today. City Council member, District 1, R. L. Gross, and City Council member, District 22, Maria Provost Yzaguirre, presented the Mayor with an invoice for City-owned and maintained buildings.

The Mayor's Office of Cultural Affairs (MOCA) announced new art for the City of Houston. The City's Cultural Plan, which was presented in 2019, outlined a vision for the future of cultural planning in Houston. The Cultural Plan was developed through a series of workshops, community meetings, and public forums. The plan was approved by the City Council in December 2019.

The City of Houston has announced $3M for artist opportunities via the Mayor's Office of Cultural Affairs (MOCA).

The City's Cultural Plan 2019-2029 is a comprehensive plan that outlines the City's cultural vision and goals for the next ten years. The plan was developed through a series of workshops, community meetings, and public forums. The plan was approved by the City Council in December 2019.

City of Houston announces $3M for artist opportunities

The Mayor's Office of Cultural Affairs (MOCA) announced new art for the City of Houston. The City's Cultural Plan, which was presented in 2019, outlined a vision for the future of cultural planning in Houston. The Cultural Plan was developed through a series of workshops, community meetings, and public forums. The plan was approved by the City Council in December 2019.

The City of Houston has announced $3M for artist opportunities via the Mayor's Office of Cultural Affairs (MOCA).

The City's Cultural Plan 2019-2029 is a comprehensive plan that outlines the City's cultural vision and goals for the next ten years. The plan was developed through a series of workshops, community meetings, and public forums. The plan was approved by the City Council in December 2019.
A&M creates $100 million fund for student scholarships

The Texas A&M University System Board of Regents approved a $100 million fund for students that will provide annual scholarships to current and future degrees. The board made the decision this week, with the goal of making the A&M System the most affordable public university system in the country. If approved, the funds will be available to students in the fall of 2022.

The program will provide $100 million annually for student scholarships. In addition to fee waivers and grants, the program will help students get into college and provide support to students already enrolled.

"This fund will enable us to offer a world-class education to students without any student loan debt," Williams said. "Our goal is to provide an affordable education to all who qualify." The fund will be used to help students pay tuition, fees, and other costs such as textbooks, books, and other expenses.

A&M's new fund will help families get students into college and keep them there. "We want to make sure students have the support they need to succeed," Williams said. "This is a great opportunity for us to provide financial assistance to students who need it most."

"This is a great opportunity for us to provide financial assistance to students who need it most," Williams said. "This fund will help us attract and retain students who are committed to their education and who want to make a difference in the world."

The new fund will be used to provide scholarships to students who are currently enrolled at A&M or who will be enrolled in the future.

"This fund will help us attract and retain students who are committed to their education and who want to make a difference in the world," Williams said. "We want to make sure students have the support they need to succeed."
COVID-19 spike could affect fall sports

The reality of an Aug. 1 start to preseason high school football and volleyball workouts across the state was tossed back into question June 25 and then a day later as Harris County officials announced, among other things, stricter social-distancing guidelines moving forward.

Up to June 25, many school districts statewide, including both Clear Creek ISD and Pasadena ISD, had allowed summer strength and conditioning and sport-specific workouts to go on. That much is well known.

But with the June 25 announcement surrounding a 14-week spike in COVID-19 cases in the county came a scramble to shut down workouts in most, if not all, Houston area district schools, halting such workouts immediately.

A day later, city officials were also given notice to forbid social gatherings involving 10 or more persons.

A day later, city officials were also given notice to forbid social gatherings involving 10 or more persons.

Data from the 2018-19 season.

The case was reviewed by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and the NCAA’s Committee on Infractions, which determined that UMHB violated the NCAA rules for three months without penalty and for the first three games of 2018. However, the NCAA added a penalty of vacating wins and records during the 2016 and 2017 football seasons, including the 2016 Division III National championship, which UMHB promptly appealed.

The case was reviewed by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and the NCAA’s Committee on Infractions, which determined that UMHB violated the NCAA rules for three months without penalty and for the first three games of 2018. However, the NCAA added a penalty of vacating wins and records during the 2016 and 2017 football seasons, including the 2016 Division III National championship, which UMHB promptly appealed.

The case was reviewed by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and the NCAA’s Committee on Infractions, which determined that UMHB violated the NCAA rules for three months without penalty and for the first three games of 2018. However, the NCAA added a penalty of vacating wins and records during the 2016 and 2017 football seasons, including the 2016 Division III National championship, which UMHB promptly appealed.

The case was reviewed by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and the NCAA’s Committee on Infractions, which determined that UMHB violated the NCAA rules for three months without penalty and for the first three games of 2018. However, the NCAA added a penalty of vacating wins and records during the 2016 and 2017 football seasons, including the 2016 Division III National championship, which UMHB promptly appealed.

The case was reviewed by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and the NCAA’s Committee on Infractions, which determined that UMHB violated the NCAA rules for three months without penalty and for the first three games of 2018. However, the NCAA added a penalty of vacating wins and records during the 2016 and 2017 football seasons, including the 2016 Division III National championship, which UMHB promptly appealed.
At left, the South Beloit-based Swing Queens 6U undefeated, win sizzle.

JACKSON’S UMHB TEAM LOSES APPEAL AND BEYOND.”

The NCAA recently introduced the Independent Adjuster Committee (IAC) in December 2019.

Our University and our program have the right to appeal denial of that final appeal.

The decision will hurt us greatly.

From Mary Hardin-Baylor.

Brooks’ Hunt enjoys big day.

“Tour de France”
San Jacinto College names two medics for Medicare

Continued from Page 1

By Chris De La Garza

Knight is a recipient of the National Health Service Corps Service Award for making a difference in the health care field.

San Jacinto College's nursing programs were established in 1995. Since then, the college has awarded 3,642 associate of science degrees in nursing.

"I want to begin by thanking the two wonderful nurses who have served our community throughout this difficult time," Knight said. "As of now, we plan to be back to school for in-person learning in the fall. We are working as quickly as we can to provide you with detailed plans so that you can make an informed decision regarding your educational path.

"While some of you are getting ready to return to campus, others are preparing to continue learning online in fall 2020. We understand that where you choose to learn is a personal decision. We hope that you will find our continued focus on the health and safety of our students and faculty to be very comforting.

"San Jacinto College has adopted a comprehensive plan designed to bring back to school in some way, but prudently so," said Knight. "As we move forward, we recognize the importance of providing our students, faculty, staff, and staff and their families with an all-back to school regular and routine experience. We will definitely look and feel different, with some aspects of student life and staff still. I encourage you to provide us with feedback as we continue to work towards providing a safe and supportive campus experience for all.

"We will provide you with an update at least July 7 to seek your input on our return-to-campus plan. We will use your feedback to help guide us in making the best decision for our students and faculty. We will have more definitive plans outlined for you for our continued support in taking care of your child's education, planning future academic goals, and returning to campus.

"We're still learning how to navigate this new normal, we are prepared to help our students, their children, and all other school board members.

"As of now, we plan to be back to school for in-person learning in the fall. We are working as quickly as we can to provide you with detailed plans so that you can make an informed decision regarding your educational path.

"While some of you are getting ready to return to campus, others are preparing to continue learning online in fall 2020. We understand that where you choose to learn is a personal decision. We hope that you will find our continued focus on the health and safety of our students and faculty to be very comforting.

"San Jacinto College has adopted a comprehensive plan designed to bring back to school in some way, but prudently so," said Knight. "As we move forward, we recognize the importance of providing our students, faculty, staff, and staff and their families with an all-back to school regular and routine experience. We will definitely look and feel different, with some aspects of student life and staff still. I encourage you to provide us with feedback as we continue to work towards providing a safe and supportive campus experience for all.

"We will provide you with an update at least July 7 to seek your input on our return-to-campus plan. We will use your feedback to help guide us in making the best decision for our students and faculty. We will have more definitive plans outlined for you for our continued support in taking care of your child's education, planning future academic goals, and returning to campus.

"We're still learning how to navigate this new normal, we are prepared to help our students, their children, and all other school board members.

"As of now, we plan to be back to school for in-person learning in the fall. We are working as quickly as we can to provide you with detailed plans so that you can make an informed decision regarding your educational path.

"While some of you are getting ready to return to campus, others are preparing to continue learning online in fall 2020. We understand that where you choose to learn is a personal decision. We hope that you will find our continued focus on the health and safety of our students and faculty to be very comforting.

"San Jacinto College has adopted a comprehensive plan designed to bring back to school in some way, but prudently so," said Knight. "As we move forward, we recognize the importance of providing our students, faculty, staff, and staff and their families with an all-back to school regular and routine experience. We will definitely look and feel different, with some aspects of student life and staff still. I encourage you to provide us with feedback as we continue to work towards providing a safe and supportive campus experience for all.

"We will provide you with an update at least July 7 to seek your input on our return-to-campus plan. We will use your feedback to help guide us in making the best decision for our students and faculty. We will have more definitive plans outlined for you for our continued support in taking care of your child's education, planning future academic goals, and returning to campus.

"We're still learning how to navigate this new normal, we are prepared to help our students, their children, and all other school board members.

"As of now, we plan to be back to school for in-person learning in the fall. We are working as quickly as we can to provide you with detailed plans so that you can make an informed decision regarding your educational path.

"While some of you are getting ready to return to campus, others are preparing to continue learning online in fall 2020. We understand that where you choose to learn is a personal decision. We hope that you will find our continued focus on the health and safety of our students and faculty to be very comforting.

"San Jacinto College has adopted a comprehensive plan designed to bring back to school in some way, but prudently so," said Knight. "As we move forward, we recognize the importance of providing our students, faculty, staff, and staff and their families with an all-back to school regular and routine experience. We will definitely look and feel different, with some aspects of student life and staff still. I encourage you to provide us with feedback as we continue to work towards providing a safe and supportive campus experience for all.

"We will provide you with an update at least July 7 to seek your input on our return-to-campus plan. We will use your feedback to help guide us in making the best decision for our students and faculty. We will have more definitive plans outlined for you for our continued support in taking care of your child's education, planning future academic goals, and returning to campus.

"We're still learning how to navigate this new normal, we are prepared to help our students, their children, and all other school board members.

"As of now, we plan to be back to school for in-person learning in the fall. We are working as quickly as we can to provide you with detailed plans so that you can make an informed decision regarding your educational path.

"While some of you are getting ready to return to campus, others are preparing to continue learning online in fall 2020. We understand that where you choose to learn is a personal decision. We hope that you will find our continued focus on the health and safety of our students and faculty to be very comforting.

"San Jacinto College has adopted a comprehensive plan designed to bring back to school in some way, but prudently so," said Knight. "As we move forward, we recognize the importance of providing our students, faculty, staff, and staff and their families with an all-back to school regular and routine experience. We will definitely look and feel different, with some aspects of student life and staff still. I encourage you to provide us with feedback as we continue to work towards providing a safe and supportive campus experience for all.

"We will provide you with an update at least July 7 to seek your input on our return-to-campus plan. We will use your feedback to help guide us in making the best decision for our students and faculty. We will have more definitive plans outlined for you for our continued support in taking care of your child's education, planning future academic goals, and returning to campus.

"We're still learning how to navigate this new normal, we are prepared to help our students, their children, and all other school board members.

"As of now, we plan to be back to school for in-person learning in the fall. We are working as quickly as we can to provide you with detailed plans so that you can make an informed decision regarding your educational path.

"While some of you are getting ready to return to campus, others are preparing to continue learning online in fall 2020. We understand that where you choose to learn is a personal decision. We hope that you will find our continued focus on the health and safety of our students and faculty to be very comforting.

"San Jacinto College has adopted a comprehensive plan designed to bring back to school in some way, but prudently so," said Knight. "As we move forward, we recognize the importance of providing our students, faculty, staff, and staff and their families with an all-back to school regular and routine experience. We will definitely look and feel different, with some aspects of student life and staff still. I encourage you to provide us with feedback as we continue to work towards providing a safe and supportive campus experience for all.

"We will provide you with an update at least July 7 to seek your input on our return-to-campus plan. We will use your feedback to help guide us in making the best decision for our students and faculty. We will have more definitive plans outlined for you for our continued support in taking care of your child's education, planning future academic goals, and returning to campus.

"We're still learning how to navigate this new normal, we are prepared to help our students, their children, and all other school board members.

"As of now, we plan to be back to school for in-person learning in the fall. We are working as quickly as we can to provide you with detailed plans so that you can make an informed decision regarding your educational path.